

Holoskin

Hook

Have you ever landed on Earth and immediately felt that everyone is staring at your three glowing antennae?

---

Problem

Many aliens visiting Earth struggle to blend in with humans. Traditional disguises are uncomfortable, outdated, or simply ineffective against modern human surveillance... and fashion sense.

---

Solution

Introducing Holoskin, the app that allows non-earthlings to create a perfect human appearance using advanced holographic makeup technology.

---

Features

- Holographic makeup generator that adapts to different human environments.
  - Real-time disguise updates powered by Node.js and C++.
  - Customizable presets such as “Office Worker”, “Soccer Dad”, or “Tourist Who’s Lost But Pretending Not to Be.”
  - Monetization model: payments using space credits (diamonds).
-

Crazy / Innovative Idea

With the Holoskin Plus version, users unlock access to typical human expressions, including:

- “The government stole my retirement funds.”
- “Where’s my pants?”
- “I didn’t touch your food in the fridge.”

These help aliens sound perfectly human... or at least confused enough to blend in.

---

Useless Premium Feature

A Super-Deluxe Ultra Premium Mode that adds freckles that change color depending on the user’s mood. Completely useless, especially because humans cannot perceive alien moods.

---

Demo Situation

Imagine an alien named Antonio arriving in New York for the first time.

He opens Holoskin, selects “Human Male, 30–40, Tech Bro Variant,” and instantly fits in.

With Holoskin Plus, he confidently says: “I’m not paying for parking,” perfectly blending with the locals.